Is Anyone Complaining?

As you might expect, there are published complaints about the Hoover Platinum Lightweight Upright Vacuum. It is virtually impossible to please everyone, right? However, the good news is that most of these complaints are relatively minor.

Since this vacuum is powerful, it's almost impossible to use it on small throw rugs. In addition, certain carpet manufacturers don't recommend using it on Berber, because of the sweeper's rotating brushes. This is an issue for some.

Various complaints reference the Platinum's long cord. While most consumers like this feature, a few find it to be a disadvantage. They experience the problem of running over the cord, which in turn causes it to get sucked up into the vacuum itself.

In Conclusion

The Hoover Platinum Lightweight Upright with Bagged Canister removes more dirt per pass than comparable models. It is backed by the best warranty that Hoover offers.

You'll quickly learn to appreciate features such as the bag indicator light that lets you know when the HEPA bag needs to be changed and the comfortable shoulder strap that makes using the portable canister even easier.

If you're in need of a reliable vacuum that is capable of floor-to-ceiling cleaning, this upright most certainly deserves consideration. Countless consumers won't hesitate to admit that they don't know how they ever got along without it.
